Adverse Impacts Research

Brendan Moore, Operations Research Specialist, ESD gave an overview of ESD's adverse impacts research project using the following slides.

Adverse Impacts Research

- ESD received American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) funds from USDOL's UI Equity Grant
- USDOL's Goal: "Promote Equitable Access to UI Programs"
 - "Equitable access means that state UI agencies are ensuring that all individuals have an effective and meaningful opportunity to obtain the benefits to which they are entitled" (pg. 4, UIPL 01-24)
 - "Declining UI reciprocity is an equity issue... low reciprocity has been particularly difficult for historically marginalized groups that experience high rates of unemployment." (pg. 2, UIPL 01-24)
- USDOL recommends evaluating "What targeted improvements and affirmative outreach may improve reciprocity rates between different groups? What barriers are preventing claimants from successfully filing for benefits?" (pg. 15, UIPL 01-24)

Adverse Impacts Research

- Problem Statement: Marginalized workers may not apply for UI benefits because of inequitable access.
 - E.g., they do not know about the program, whether they are eligible, how to apply, or the benefits of doing so.
- Research Question: Can we increase access to UI among marginalized communities by providing timely information about the program?
- Outreach: Notify workers about UI benefits shortly after experiencing a job loss
 - Use ESD's wage records to identify workers with stable employment who then experience a sudden and significant drop in hours during most recent quarter
 - Target low-wage workers in industries with historically lower take-up
 - Must not be near retirement age or receiving UI/PFML
 - Send letter with information about UI program with language from ESD's website

Adverse Impacts Research

Timeline:

- March 13, 2024 – Pilot (use 2023Q4 records)
- Mid-May – Main Wave #1 (use 2024Q1 records)
- Mid-August – Main Wave #2 (use 2024Q2 records)
- Analysis takes place from April-November 2024

No questions were raised.
